

Question from potential bidder:

Question 1:

Have you worked with any other contractors to map out where you would like the panic buttons, what areas you need speaker coverage, and where you would like LED signage? Do you need any call stations for classroom type situations, or just a few stations to make pages/ announcements?

Response 1:

We spoke with contractors as we developed the RFP. We conducted walk-throughs and discussed possible locations for the panic buttons but we did not specify any locations as we want to get recommendations from companies that do this professionally. The same applies for speaker locations and LED signage. We currently have a number of phones and iPhones that are used as intercoms to communicate to offices and classrooms. We are interested in recommendations for call stations to make pages/announcements that supplement or replace our existing system.
